Secord, Mrs. Florence Plowe	Of Hall Street. (Olive Croff used to use her to locate keys, etc.)	6-5-1951
Secord, John M.	Honey Pratt and Jean Weiss say Secord invented a gadget to go on electric poles which he offered to General Electric, who said wasn't interested. Later General Electric used it anyway. Secord didn't have the money to patent his inventions at that time. Made a policy of not patenting his inventions. Went to Fraterigo's lunch cart every noon. Smoked cigars. Honey Pratt says Secord was born in St. Catherines, Ontario and brought up in Niagara Falls, NY. Did much of the woodwork in the house at 5 Lewis Avenue including leaded glass in the kitchen. Built curving stairs in a house for his son on Colonial Blvd. - one of the few brick houses on the south side of the street. The builder said the design he suggested couldn't be put into the house so he built it. Also built a beautiful rocking horse for her children which someone in the family still owns. Staircase of cherry wood - at least ball on the newell post is of cherry. She thinks a friend at Horseshoe Lake was clearing a building lot and gave him the wood. Secord had a rough cottage at Horseshoe Lake. Had to support his mother and sister when his father died about 1910.	October 1886

	Winds up career of 42 years. First patrolman to patrol on bicycle. First to have a patrol car - "a cut-down Ford which I fixed up myself soon after 1915."
	Retired as Turnkey for the County at 70. Began as an extra patrolman for the city when the circus came to town or some such event required extra help.
	Hired McCulley. Never had any special call to police duty - just found himself a policeman. Partly suited because of his size. Became a regular policeman January 24, 1924. In 1942 named Police Chief. Resigned in 1946 and has been a turnkey ever since. Was the first local police to ride in a patrol car. It was a cut-down Ford he adapted by adding a big gas tank on the back. He says it was very handy at times. The first motorcycle was one that belonged to the son of Dr. Harvey Burkhart. Says he never used a gun or club. When he asked McCulley for a gun when he first joined the force McCulley said he didn't need one - he was big enough. Daughter: Mrs. Richard Pixley.	2-28-1957

Speed Limit	Autoists advised that Main Street speed is still 8mph. Mayor Williamson to enforce 10mph speed limit. 10mph on village streets. Three arrests for speeding. No fires occurred since fire trucks limited to 25mph. Each test alarm brings merchants to streets to watch slow down. Explained that fire truck speed rule followed a complaint by W. W. Buxton after a wild dash by Engine 2 from Ellicott Square to come to Court Street as a standby when Engine 1 was called out. Firemen can only guess speed of vehicles on way to a fire.	5-15-1902 5-12-1906 6-27-1908 7-27-1908 8-13-1920 8-17-1920 8-23-1920

	Accompanying note: Mrs. Rachael Stevens, relict of the late Benj. H. Stevens, and we believe the oldest resident of Genesee Co., died at her residence on East Main Street on Sunday morning last. [30 Nov 1880] Born in Trenton, NJ, 3 Oct 1783, and came to Batavia in June 1822. Her maiden name was Rachael Yard, and her father was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. In 1823, she opened a select school in Batavia, in a building situated about where the M. E. Church now stands, which she successfully conducted for a period of 27 years, having among her pupils many of the older residents of our village.

Taverns	Log building opposite the site of the Land Office the first building in the village - "Rowe's Hotel" - built by Abel Rowe. Stephen Russell built a log house on the site later occupied by the Genesee House. Russell added a frame wing to the tavern later. "Snake Den" at the corner of Main and State built in 1834 by Truman Hurlburt and called the Genesee House. Batavia Library subscribers convened at the home of Abel Rowe the second Tuesday, November 1804. John Rowe was one of the original members of the Free-Will Baptist Church. Ethel Holly Hottois says she was born in the house now on the corner of Ellicott Street Road and Townline Road - facing Bethany Center Road, as her father was before her - not her sister. She says a tavern stood in the triangle of Ellicott Street Road and the Bethany Center Road and when it burned the present house was built as a tavern. Tramps	Supervisors discuss caring for vagrants. [Claim police put tramps in jail rather than lock-up.] Don't care for Batavia as a stopover - as they used to. Aldermen to discuss the tramp problem. Are said to be a common problem for the area. Letter to editor on. Police lodged over 900 tramps in 1906. No more in expensive method known. Six lodged at the police station, including one negro. More than 1,000 lodged by the police in 1907 - 946 applied for shelter, 102 arrested. There were several mentions of a farmer who offered lodging to any wanderer who would cut wood for him. (not noted) Lodgers sent to the farm of Sylvanus Ford worked a few hours and disappeared. Gang of tramps encamped a Lehigh freight car dislodged by police. The Mayor gets an announcement in the mail of hobos convention for Batavia. 1,908 lodgers in 1909, 2,022 in 1908. 84 tramps in the lock-up in week. 42 tramps, a record. 	Began as a locomotive repair shop. In 1930, F. W. Allan & Sons formed Contractor's Machinery Co. to market and manufacture road building equipment. (Early days [they] shared quarters with the Town of Batavia Streets Dept.)
	Thru 300 repaired locomotives - made snowplows, agriculture tractors, sheeps foot rolls, small tractor blades for scraping. Developed Trojan Road Patrol - International tractor fitted with a framework that allowed the attachment of a road grader blade. In WWII they made PT boat cradles, submarine and torpedo netting, mine-sweeping gear. At the end of the war they developed a shovel-type loader - a tractor with the driver facing the rear and a bucket added. This developed into the front-end bucket loader and four-wheel tractor shovels. Expanded in 1957 when sold to Yale and Towne Mfg. Co. In November 1979 bought by Fanne-Werke, a German based manufacturer of off-road vehicles and equipment. It was incorporated under the name Trojan Industries.	11-3-1981

Weaver House

Hazel McGregor says in Rensselaer County, where George Weaver was born, the family name was spelled Wever. (Hazel McGregor's mother was adopted by the Weaver's and brought up by them. She and her mother lived in a house behind the West Main residence Weaver built.)

Mrs. Carmel, who owned the West Main house in the '80s, says she bought it from Rufus L. Howard. The house was purchased in the '90s by Terrence L. Platt who lived on the corner of Richmond and Ellicott Avenues. Made it into an apartment or rooming house.

1995

Weaver built a house, now 130 West Main Street, in 1889. Moved here from Troy.

Partner was Charles Winslow. (A nephew.) Niece sold to Dr. Conklin in 1922 for $13,500. The house has a room walled with maple, once had a stained glass window on a turn of the stairs and another in a recess over the fireplace.

E. N. Rowell had three rooms on the second floor, one over the parlor.

Daughters occasionally visited. Weaver - uncle George - made a barn in the rear into a home for his niece when she returned from Chicago. She married Charles Winslow at 15. Daughter Irene was born in Chicago. Second husband Reade. Informer: Hazel Reade McGregor, lives at 400 Towers. Telephone; 343-3698. George D. Weaver and Winslow put in the first sidewalk - he and Timothy Feasted - bronze plaque has Weaver and Winslow. Rowell murder October 30, 1883.

Weaver is remodeling the barn behind his West Main Street house. The barn was originally the dwelling of Judge Sopor and stood where the Weaver house stands. To make into a 2 family house for Mr. & Mrs. L. W. Reade - Weaver's niece and husband.

9-28-1904

Mrs. Etta I. Reade sells the house to Dr. R. c. Conklin.

10-9-1922

M. Earl Williams owned the house in 1927. Sold to the holder of a second mortgage Fred B. Crawford - of E. Pembroke Mill.

6-23-1928

The house was leased to McLellan Furniture Co. for the display of furniture.

9-13-1928

Display at 130 West Main - seen by many.

10-11-1928

Picture of 130 West Main Street - now a furniture store.

11-1-1928

Fire on the second floor of damages displayed furniture - water and smoke.

2-7-1929

George F. Galloway buys - to open a tourist home. [Now 122 West Main and a furniture store.

5-9-1933

Cyrus Corp remembers George D. Weaver driving a smart team. He lived at 40 West Main from 1898 to 1906. The house remembered as 130 West Main later.

no date

An apartment listed at 130 West Main Street.

6-7-1941

The house Weaver built in (1889?) on West Main Street is being refurbished by Kathleen Carmel of Montreal - picture. She says she bought in in 1980 from Rufus Howard.

9-28-1983

Mrs. Carmel says the stained glass window in the front was gone before she got possession. Stained glass over the stairs she removed and sold. As she was moving in she saw a truck carry off one of the fine fireplaces and mantles, but that has been returned and is now in her LeRoy home. The house was lighted by gas and some gas fixtures are still in the house. Uncle George lighted them with a paper squib on the end of a long gas lighter pole. Land went back almost parallel to 12 Ellicott Avenue where Hazel Call lived. Had three gardens, cherry trees, peach trees, plum trees. The roof was slate originally. Hazel Reade, when moved from little house, had birdseye maple room until E. N. Rowell came. He had three rooms, including the south east corner. Marble wash bowl in one room. Third floor is just an unfinished attic with a cistern in the center. Another Cistern is in the cellar. Mama had the porch enclosed. From Hazel McGregor.

10-26-1983

The Weavers lived at St. James (23 Ellicott Avenue according to the Daily News) until the house was completed. Found an infant on the doorstep - Gracie Weaver - died in infancy. So asked sort of niece of Addie's to live with them. She was homesick and went back to Janesville, WI once, but returned. Marietta Ford - always called Etta - Mrs. Addie Weaver, maiden name Bonsteel -

In 1918 set-up a baby station with nurse to advise mothers who called at the station, or had home visits. In 1921, under Mrs. MacLean, a schedule was set-up for "well baby conferences," now held every Thursday at City Hall. Special clinics are held on the 2nd and 4th Tuesday of each month with Dr. Edith Ryan attending, to give infants examinations and, where necessary, refer them to a family physician. About 10 to 25 attend the Thursday conferences. Chest clinics started in 1936 when Mrs. MacLean took TB for the City. TB clinics held once a month with 15 to 50 attending.	9-27-1944

Welfare - Infant Welfare Association	Organized in 1914 - meeting with Mrs. Julia B. Gubb September 4, 1914. Dr. C. M. McCarthy met with women and encouraged them to take over the Infant Welfare Station which the State had opened as a demonstration unit. The group organized as the Infant Welfare Association - dues $1 a year. Funds from dues and voluntary contributions from friends. The Station at first was in the Teresi Building on Ellicott Street with a nurse on duty - at first Olive Hart - who was hired from day to day as funds allowed. Nurse Hart also made some house calls. Alice Day Gardner was the first president; Mrs. William Buchholtz, vice-president; Miss Eliza Hamilton, secretary & treasurer. Other presidents have been: Mrs. Charles Scott; Mrs. Edward J. Dellinger; Mrs. Everest Judd;
