To to make his escape from justice, as a ma-son, I cannot offer a syllable. But, sir, to justify myself as a man, and as an Amer-ican citizen, I will truly say, that in point of obedience to abligations, having found those of Free-masonry contrary to obli-gations of a higher order, I have con-scientiously and in good faith, given the

which the masons killed him, as 1 since learned.) I was unwilling the bord the thought that masons were as even ded as a body, in this foul transaction. But, sir, I find the sad reverse. Morgan has been kidnapped by the masons, pinioned fast, taken to a place of execution, where after giving him to drink of some power-ful composition of poisonous drugs, which failed to produce death as anticipated, they attempted to take his life by letting blood, (under pretences that he was sick, and needed the operation,) which redu-ced him very low, and brought on a sort of derangement. On a second attempt to bleed him, he resisted with all his might, crying for mercy, and begging of them to allow him a bible to prepare for the awful realities of DRATH;—but with these requests they would not, and ince learned,) I was unwill for the awful realities of DEATH; --but with these requests they would not, and did not comply. A second council sat on the wretched man, and it was propo-sed and agreed, to put the penalties of his masonic obligations in force for him; lots were cast for exectioner, and it fell on Richard Howard, an Englishma by birth, a great villain, who fied from his country for crime, and came to A marice under an for crime, and came to America under an assumed name, where, like as unclean spirit, he took to himself seren more spin, he took to himself series more devils, who planned the murder of a re-spectable citizen of this state. But How-ard, as I said before, was male the ex-ecutioner of masonic vengence, and soon the work of death was done. How-ard by the assistance of his magnic breth-ren outded intring and assoc method ard by the assistance of his magnic breth-ren, evided justice—and some months after made his appearance in St. John's Hall, in this city, his mind agtated with the conscientiousness of the stain of a fellow creature's blood upon his soul.— He sought the open Lodge of his mason-ic brethren, and confessed muself the executioner of masonic vengeance upon the traiter Morgan. In order to deliver their persecuted brother from his pursu-ers, they held a consultation, and agreed to send him to Europe, to forward which with all possible despatch, they raise

My information on this sub-ject was obtained in a way and under circumstances, which compel me to be-lieve it. I can no more doubt that Howting from measures I have taken in re-gard to masonry, and knowing you have a "profund veneration for that order," I respectfully address you. I am induced to be see that a time will come, when you will no longer consider me a word-member of that institution, and will ex-pel me therefrom as "a vile traitor;"— for I have this day set my hand to a pa-per that will forever blast my reputation as a mason; and I have done it in expec-tation of losing many of my masonic friends. When I say "will blast my rep-utation as a mason; and speak in special reference to that class of masons, whose enthusias-tic zeal for the order, has led them to a-dopt and sanction a course that will even-tually result in its final destruction. Deponent further says, that said How-ard, alias Chipperfield, declared he must go forthwith out of the country, and did not wish to have any one know that he was in this city, the deponent believing that he owed money, which Chipperfield said was not convenient for him to pay. The deponent gave his word, that How-ard, alias Chipperfield, should not be dis-covered; whereupon the said Howard, alias Chipperfield, walked the room in apparent distress, and the deponent fear-ed having been trusted with a few hun-dred dollars by Mr. Haskins, to purchase stock. From the Utica Elucidator.

From the Utica Elucidator. What does Mr. Dauby [Editor of the Oreida Observer,] mean by republican and the republican party? We had sup-posed that by republicans he meant those who supported the principles that predom-inated in 1801. But his assertion that none of the republican party are to be found acting with the Anti-Masons, leaves us in a quandary. We know, and he knows, that a large portion of those who support the principles of Anti-Masonry are democrats of the old Jeffersonian school, and that in this county and in this village, we can point out, not one, but many who were efficient supporters of the present administration, that are in fexible Anti-Masons, and are now justly indignant at his Machiavelian attempts to sell the democracy they have sustained to the Royal Princes and Kings of Mason-to a republican is to be found in the ranks of Anti-Masonry. Again we ask what does he mean by republicanism? It is nothing more than masoary? Then let those who have hitherto confided in him may know the terms upon which they may expect a continuance of his favor. We hear every day the expres-tions of democrats (or, if that term is not plain enough, Jacksonians,) judig-scientiously and in good faith, given the preference to those imposed upon me by my God and my country. And this has not been done by the mere impulse of the moment, under the heat of passion, malice, or of ambitious motives, but in cool deliberation, with an "awful refer-ence to the day of my death and coming judgment;" and I defy any man or ma-is bound to adhere to his masonic obliga-tions, when the same is at issue with the to promise him in advance half his ex-penses out to Buffal6, and "to shew you that I am in carnest" said Chipperfield, "I will put five dollars into your iand," and he drew from his pocket a roll of bills, and from the roll a five dollar bill; but the deponent declined receiving it, until he made up his mind to go, and then he would expect the half of his expenses according to promise. Deponent further says, that said How, ard, alias Chipperfield, declared he must so forthwith out of the country, and did ry to ride upon their triumphant party.---"Away with it; we know it not." Such a course redounds to its honor, and ina course renormance of their principles. Sures the permanence of their principles. Democracy to live must be kept pure and uncontaminated. Its adherents knows this to their own praise, to the sorrow of masonic politicians, and to the chagrin of Mr. Dauby, their heartless organ.

From the same.

From the same. One of the most zealous masonic prints of the day, is the Chronicle, published at Pawtucket, R. I. About a year ago that paper published an account of a lady, Miss. Hayes, daughter of Lord Doner-uile, of New-Market, Ireland, who se-creted herself in a Lodge Room at the time. of a communication, where she time of a communication, where she witnessed the ceremonies of the two first degrees; before she was discovered. The narrative runs thus:

narrative runs thus: "Her inquisitiveness being gratified, fear took possession of her frame; she sought in vain to escape unpreceived.— The ceremony was not yet quite conclu-ded, and the room being a large one, she resolved to effect her escape by cautious-ly passing through the solemn mysterious chamber. "With light and trembling step, almost by the Lodge, applied ber hand to the lock, and gently opening the door, before her stood a grim and surly Tyler, with his sword unsheathed and pointed at her breast. Her shrieks alarmed the Lodge, who hastened to the door, and ascertain-ing she had been in the room during the ceremony, they, in their paroxism of rage und above DESOL VED LIDON 13 ing she had been in the room during the ceremony, they, in their paroxism of rage and alarm, RESOLVED UPON IN-STANT DEATH: but from the mo-ving and earnest supplication of a youn-ger brother. her life was spared, on con-litions of her receiving the two first de-degrees, which had just been conferred, and which she had so imprudently wit-nessod. To this she assented; and thus was this beautiful and terrified young creature conducted through trial which is the base back in agree in a sprees, too great for the more emboldened and res-olute to sustain.²⁹

This article was subsequently extracted into a number of masonic papers. Now, then, according to this masonic version of the story before us, what means will not Free-masonry take to pre-vent the exposure of its unfruitful works of darkness? What was the decree in the present case? But for the provi-idential presence of one whose bowels of compassion overcame the spirit of mason-ry in his heart, Misg. Hayes had found ther grave in that Lodge, and a horrid the death had been the reward of her temer-ity, while her friends would only have known that she had "mysteriously dis-soppeared." As it was, how must her feelings have been outraged 1 Unattend-yed by one of her own sex, she was com-pelled to pass through scenes which ma-sonic authors tell us are improper to be were witnessed by females. This is a crather sitking a picture of when witnessed by females. This is a rather sickning picture of masonry: we leave it for the fraternity to settle with their own brethren for giv-ing is to the world.

All the energies of this tri-headed monster were brought out. The Jackson and Adams parties, which, only four months ago, were de-vouring each other, now unite their votes in defence of the bloody Order of Free-masonry. Against such an amal-gamation of power and profiligacy, a large majority of the freemen of Monroe courty have stood firm. Anti-ma-sonry has triumphed over all the disaffec-ted and disorderly influences of that stratagems, faisehoods and money, could bring to bear against it. It will be born in mind, that we have had to contend, at this election, with the Jackson and Adams parties united-backs ed, too, by the power and patronage of the state government. For this offence, it would seem, that his person and life are in jeopardy.--This ferocious and unprovoked assaalt upon Mr. Whitlesey, leads us to a train of seriour reflections. If men who op-pose Free-masonry are to be thus knock ed down and trampled upon, how long ed down and trampled upon, how long shall we boast of laws and freedom? The Fraternity seem determined to impress its bloody sign upon all its opponents. The outrage will receive a judicial inves-tigation and we forbear further comments.

The sense of masonic violence and fe-rocity, exhibited at our Town Meeting Poll, has excited fearful apprehensions for personal safety and the public peace. A frightful crisis in our history, has arrived. The peaceful discharge of our e-lective duties, is obstructed by the hand of violence! Freemen are kept from the Ballot-Boxes by brute force; Outcasts and bullies are hired by the Fraternity to create disorder and rict. FEDERALISM.

It is frequently the case, that certain men, or set of men, represent others as possessing prin-ciples, which, in fact, are cherished by the accusers, instead of the accused. 'Tis so at the pres-ent day, as respects Federalism. The Aristocrat, alias masonic party, in this state, witnesed, with awe, the rapid progress of the Repub ican anti-musonic party-they perceived they were in danger-and wishing to bring the party nto disrepute, they raised the cry of " "Federal im," knowing it to be unpopular at this time It is a serious fact, that a great portion of the pub

It was stated in the Federal Sentinel of the that the Republican anti-m jority in the town of Macedon, was "11 only." When our last week's paper went to press, we had not heard the exact result of the el that town; but have since ascertained that the statement in the Sentinel of the result, and the intimation that anti-masonry had made a retrogade movement in that town, were incorrect. The truth of the the business is this: At the meeting held in that town, to make out nomina tions for town officers, Abraham Spear was put up as candidate for Supervisor. The proceedings of the meeting were rather too pointed to suit the minds of some who call themselves anti-masons, (and for any thing we know to the contrary, may be such,) and consequently they bolted, determined to hold another meeting. At this latter meeting, Mr. Spear was likewise put up for Supervisor ; but not declining the nominlation, for radius of George Crane substituted. Early in the day, the Fraternity made a rosh to the Polls, secured the passages, and in defiance of all civil authority, kept their ground, through the day. The disorder was so great that the Polls were forced to close for some time. A large number of citizens, after several efforts to vote, were forced back and compelled to abandon it. At night, it being known that at least one forth of our votes were not in, the Board adjourned over until the next morning. Immediately after closing the Polls, the abuse and menace which had been kept up through the day, was turned in-to blows and bloodshed. Taxation .- We learn from Albany that the finances of the state prove to be in so dilapodated a condition, that it will be necessary to impose a new state land tax, to meet the current ex-penses of the government. This additional burden on the farmers in their present distressed and embarrassed condition, will be severely felt. It is however, no more than we expected .-The profligate management of the cor-rupt and imbecil dinasty which now rules us with a rod of iron cannot fail to bring with it such results. What else can happen, when the people's money is lavished by thousands on a state printe like Edwin Croswell, to reward him for denouncing and slandering the farmers of the west for their opposition to masonic perjuries and murders? What is still worse to accelerate our ruin, the Masonic party of the legislature under the guidance of Throop of "compensation law" memory, are endeavoring to raise the salaries of the state officers. "Reform "-The Saco Palladium says the collector of that port who. has been removed by Gen. Jackson, is a revolutionary vetran, whose pov-erty was such that he needed the income of the office for the support of his declining years. Some apprehensions having arisen of his removal, a memorial in his favor was forwarded to Washington signed by all the ship owners in Saco and Biddeford, as well as a large portion of the other citi-zens. Yet he was removed to make way for a man of wealth, engaged in a lucrative business, and who did not need the income of the office-a good illustration of that regard which Gen. Jackson on the day of his inaugura tion professed to have for the revolu-

FOR THE PALMYRA FREEMAN. TO ADELLA. As you are entering, now, my love, Upon life's busy stage, O, seek assistance from above; In Virtue's path engage.

O, let no gay, delusive dream Tempt your young heart astray ; Earth's joys—like lightning—flashes, gleam As soon, to die away.

But seek that everlasting flame, That true, substantial joy-Her pleasures never cloy.

Should you for Beauty heave a sigh-It is a fading flower,-The blooming check, the sparkling eye, May wither in an hour.

O, seek those everlasting charms That never will decay : Peace, Charity, and holy Faith Will never fade away.

Should Love engage your youthful mind-"Tis but a transient flame ; On earth, dear girl, you'll hardly find

Love that deserve the nan But seek that everlasting bliss, That holy, heavenly fire That forms the joys of Paradise,

And tunes the angel's lyre. Should Friendship's joys your soul ongage

Friends cannot always stay, For if their hearts remain unchan'd, Death snatches them away

Then seek that precious, holy Friend Whose promises are sure ; For, while eternity shall last His friendship shall endure.

If you seek Happiness on earth,

How frail human nature ! Thousands of our fellow men, who might be ornaments to the church and to society, are, literally, possessed of no stability; but yields to the allurements of the poisonous liquid, and thus sinks themselves below a level with the brutes of creation! Disregarding his present and his eternal welfare ding the honor of his friends, relatives, and acquaintances-disregarding the prosperity of the rising generation-in short, disregarding every thing tending to meliorate the condition of mankind-the Drunkard again and again permits himself to be captivated by the sparkling fluid-the poison is swallowed-his senses are drownedand a beast may be seen in the shape of a human being.

ry, while the members of the Fraternity will be treated with all possible respect. It will fully illustrate the origin, the prin ciples, and the dangerous tendency of Freemasonry—tracing its history, dissipa-ting its myster, and bringing its glorious pretentions to the bar of public judgment, TO THE ANTI-MASONIC PUBLIC NOW ready for the press, and wil immediately be published,

A New English Reader ; being a collection of pieces, historical, biographical, religious, poetical, miscella-teous, &c. &c. and embracing very many eautiful extracts from the writers who have for the last three years combatted the overgrown and iniquitous institution of FREE-MASONRY, as well as some of the most glaring accounts of the impious cha-racter, and demoralizing tendency of that institution, &c. &c.—designed for families and schools. Also, a correct

English Spelling Book,

Designed for the improvement and in-struction of youth, formed after the usual plan of Spelling Books, extant; but in-terspersed with sound maxims, drawn from terspersed with sound maxims, drawn from hints furnished by the Anti-masonic and other writers of the day, and containing excerpts from, and remarks upon, mason-ry as it is now revealed to the world, &c.

It may be considered somewhat novel. even among Anti-masons, that horts, should be printed especially for their be-nefit and patronage. But the author, im-pelled as well by a sense of duty to the rising generation, as to himself, has prepared the above, which he offers to the people of the United States, in the hope that as he has been obliged, from having expressed his opinion candidly and religiously, to rely upon his anti-masonic friends, for future support, that they will as soon patronize his works, as any others, if they answer the ends for which they are designed.

The great agitation in the United States, relative to the institution of *Free-Mason-*ry, has taken a holy and religious hold upon the minds of the people—and altho' there may be some hypocritical preten-ders among the enemics of that most cor-runt and eccest institution will be rupt and secret institution; still the great hody of the people aim only at the de-struction of the Order. The design of the Spelling Book in question, it will be readily seen, is firstly, "to teach the young readily seen, is firstly, "to teach the young idea," as heretofore, and then to introduce into the book, for reading lessons, some of the objectionable parts of the ceremo-nies of Masonry; after this, to follow up the same in the Reader; which it is hep-ed, will have such an impression upon the mind, that it will forever hold at bay "all secret societies, under whatever physical secret societies, under whatever plausible pretences." It is not proposed to bur-then the works with Free-masonry, but there are) as will be proper to be read in schools, for the instruction and edification of the learner, both in the language, and a knowledge of the first principles of liber-
